SONYA LANG

March 2011

IRIS LIGHT BY SONYA LANG

My favorite flower is the iris, and my favorite place to find flowers is at the Pike Street Market in Seattle.

Because of the low light inside the market I had my ISO bumped up to 800.

The exposure time was 1/8 second, taken at f/18.

What caught my eye was the side/back light coming in from the outside that lit up the back of the top petals and then flowed right into the yellow center of the flower.

Because of the high ISO the picture was already a bit grainy so I added a grain filter in Photoshop to make the graininess even more pronounced.
