Title: Spotted Saxifrage

By: Kevin Siefke

This image was captured in mid-July on Blue Mountain in Olympic National Park. A year earlier, I had found an area with a number of spotted saxifrage (Saxifraga bronchialis) but had been unable to get an acceptable shot. This year was a return trip made primarily to get a successful image of the flower. Each flower is about 1 cm across and at the top of a thin 10 cm long stem, making the capture an exercise in patience on a breezy day.

Technical details: Nikon D850, Micro Nikkor 200mm lens, 24mm extension tube, tripod mounted, 1/60 sec, f/13, ISO 400, shot at life-size (1X), cropped.
